

RUSTY

"With 40 years of surfboard building and designing experience, the transition into building SUPs has been relatively easy and natural for me. I am an avid paddler and have been riding, designing, and building custom SUPs for several years, which has led to what I feel are some very user friendly and performance-oriented designs."

About the Boards:

All five sizes are designed to surf.

All feature similar bottom contours:

Slight release in nose, flat entry, light concave in center, slight double barrel vee coming into the fins, flat off the back.

This is a proven, go-to, bottom design for surfboards that has stood the test of time for decades.

It generates a lot of speed yet enables the rider to make smooth, controlled, rail-to-rail transitions with minimal effort.

All boards feature a tight bottom radius on the rails. I believe this contributes to stability and helps to get the board up and planing more efficiently.

Exclusively manufactured with BOARDWORKS Thermal Epoxy Compression technology.

9'8"

Designed for: Intermediate to advanced wave riding for surfers up to 190lbs. Beginner to intermediate, lighter paddlers up to approximately 160lbs. Compared to the other boards, the 9'8 has more outline curve, especially in the tail and proportionately more rocker.

10'0" NEW!

The 10'4" has been so popular that Rusty made a smaller version. With all the same design aspects of it's bigger brother, the 10'0 delivers great surfing performance with excellent glide and stability. Designed for: Intermediate to advanced wave riding for surfers up to 220lbs. Beginner to intermediate paddlers up to 180lbs.

10'4"

Designed for: Intermediate to advanced wave riding for surfers approximately 190 to 240lbs. Flat water: beginner to intermediate, up to approximately 200 lbs. Excellent all purpose design.

10'10"

Designed for: Intermediate to advanced wave riding for larger surfers 220 lbs and up. Surf touring from spot to spot. Works well for beginners of all sizes and flat water paddling.

11'4" NEW!

Designed for: Intermediate to advanced wave riding for larger surfers 260 lbs and up. Surf touring from spot to spot. With extra width for stability this board works well for beginners of all sizes and has excellent glide for flat water paddling.
